RICHMOND FINALS BEGIN TO-NIGHT

The Baccalaureate Sermon to Be Preached by Dr. Skinner in College Chapel.

AWARD DIPLOMAS WEDNESDAY

Board of Trustees to Decide Upon Enlarged Plan and Elect Professors.

Educational institutions throughout the city which have been closing their doors for the last two weeks or more, will be dark by next week. A few of the students are now free for the summer, some have only to participate in the festivities incident to commencement, while many more are waiting for final examinations. Each school, apparently, has had its share of success.

The chief events of the week are the celebration at Richmond College, beginning with the baccalaureate sermon this evening, closing with the president's reception Wednesday night, and the closing exercises of the city district schools on Friday.

The last of the final examinations at Richmond College Friday afternoon concluded the work of the session. That the year has been successful beyond the expectations of the most ardent workers for the college, is shown by the fact that the graduating classes are larger than ever before in the history of the institution, and next to the year for the first time, the session ends with more than 300 students. From the viewpoint of the athletes, the session has been exceptionally good.

Baccalaureate Sermon To-Night.

The exercises proper open this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the public hall with the baccalaureate sermon by the Rev. T. Claggett Skinner, D. D., of Roanoke. As this sermon is especially to the graduates, they, together with the board of trustees, will occupy the front seats in the hall. At the same hour Monday evening the graduating classes will hold their class day celebration, presenting their orators and historians. The most important event of the commencement will be the annual meeting of the board of trustees on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. It will be important, not only on account of the fact that many plans will be made for the extension and improvement of the college during the next session, but successors to ex-Governor A. J. Montague, who has resigned as dean of the school, Dr. W. L. Foust, who leaves the chair of Latin to practice law, and Dr. C. H. Winston, in the chair of physics, will be selected. Dr. Winston has heretofore had charge of both the physics and astronomy chairs. The newly elected professor in this department will have charge of the chair in physics and the physical laboratory, while Dr. Winston will give his full attention to the course of astronomy.

Award Diplomas Wednesday.

At 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon there will be a luncheon to the members of the board of trustees with the alumni dinner in the Thomas Art Hall at 6 P. M. This will be followed by a reunion of the classes of 1855, 1883, 1895 and 1903.

The public session of the General Society of Alumni will be held at 8:15 in the evening. Addresses will be delivered by Judge Charles E. Nicol, '74; Professor John Calvin Metcalf, '74; W. M. Turpin, '74, and Mr. Robert N. Allen, '02.

Diplomas and other college honors will be awarded Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock. The commencement address will be made by Mr. George Cary Eggleston, '69, of New York. Immediately afterward the president's reception in his residence will be given. The trustees, faculty, alumni and all friends of the college have been invited. The list of graduates in the different departments, with the subjects of these and essays of those in the academic course, will be given.

City School Exercises.

A special selection of the work done in all of the kindergarten and manual training departments has been made. The articles showing the best work in both departments will be on exhibition in the assembly hall of the Central School to-morrow, Tuesday, and Wednesday. The kindergarten exhibit will be under the direction of Miss Hooper, and the manual training exhibit under Mr. Julian A. Burruss, superintendent of the manual training department.

ARE MAKING PLANS FOR BIG MEETING

towards his party has created considerable interesting comment. As a matter of fact it is exceedingly difficult to see how Senator La Follette can support Secretary Taft or any other Republican. No Democratic Senator ever received harsher, more brutal treatment at the hands of the men who now control the Republican party as represented in the Senate, than was accorded Mr. La Follette during the consideration of the emergency bill in that body. Even senatorial courtesy was cast to the winds and old senatorial rules, formulated to conserve the dignity of the Senate were stretched in the breaking point to gag and humiliate the insurgent Senator from Wisconsin.

Aldrich, Hale and Foraker amazed and shocked the galleries, and probably their colleagues as well, by their venomous course towards Mr. La Follette. It is bound to be admitted that La Follette got the better of every colloquy in which he engaged, but he did not receive even fair treatment at the hands of the Republican leaders, and it is difficult to see how the emergency currency law, Senator La Follette may support the national Republican ticket, but it is certain that he will have to do a great deal of gulping if he does.

Republican Radicalism.

That there is a great deal of La Follette or radical sentiment in the Republican party admits of no doubt. It has long been known that William Jennings Bryan never entertained views of government as radical as those of Theodore Roosevelt. The strength of this radical sentiment of the Republican party is shown by the result of the primary elections this week, in which Senator William B. Allison, who has served his State for forty years in Congress, came within 10,000 votes of being defeated by Governor A. B. Cummins, who is a Republican of the La Follette type. Five years ago, or ten years ago, a man proclaiming Cummins' ideas would have been defeated by 50,000 majority or more with Senator Allison his antagonist.

It looks like Representative J. A. T. Hull, of Iowa, a typical standpatter, has been defeated for a renomination. This only goes to illustrate how strong radicalism has become among Republicans.

Fairbanks and Second Place.

Nobody appears to be deceived by the repeated statements of the managers of Vice-President Fairbanks' campaign for the presidential nomination that he would not accept second place on the ticket. It is certain that Mr. Fairbanks has not and never had a chance to be nominated to first place, and it is known that he will be defeated in case he is renominated to the vice-presidency. There is a prevalent belief that the ticket will be Taft and Fairbanks.

The formal announcement by John Hays Hammond that he would appreciate the Republican vice-presidential nomination created interest and amusement. Hammond is recognized as probably the foremost mining engineer in the world. The Guggenheim brothers employed him at a salary said to be ten times that of the President of the United States, though Hammond denied this. But Hammond has no political record in this country. He made one in the Transvaal when he got mixed up with Dr. Jameson's conspiracy to overthrow the Boer government, was captured by President Paul Kruger's soldiers, and would have ended his career at the end of a rope but for the intervention of the British government.

Hammond's father was collector of the port of San Francisco, under appointment from Franklin Pierce, and was, of course, a Democrat. John Hays Hammond had a brother who was rather prominent as a Democratic politician. But a record of party loyalty may not be a sine qua non in the case of a vice-presidential candidate. Of these proposed measures to be considered, although an overwhelming majority of the House favored this legislation. It is the papers in the Middle West that are making the hottest fight against Speaker Cannon. He may be retired from the speakership in two ways, either by defeating him for renomination to Congress from the Eighteenth Illinois District, or by electing a Democrat House speaker. Cannon is a Republican, and Mr. Cannon is a member, he is assured of re-election to the speakership.

After Cannon's Sculp.

Democrats are delighted at the very vigorous manner in which certain influential Republican newspapers are demanding that Joseph G. Cannon be retired from the position which he holds as Speaker of the House of Representatives. These papers are charging Speaker Cannon with the responsibility for the defeat of legislation repealing the duty on wood pulp, which is alleged to be responsible for the greatly increased cost of print paper. There is no doubt that Speaker Cannon does not present a contentment of legislation of this character.

Many Democrats and many Republicans introduced bills to repeal the wood pulp duty, but Speaker Cannon set his face like a flint against allowing any of these proposed measures to be considered, although an overwhelming majority of the House favored this legislation. It is the papers in the Middle West that are making the hottest fight against Speaker Cannon. He may be retired from the speakership in two ways, either by defeating him for renomination to Congress from the Eighteenth Illinois District, or by electing a Democrat House speaker. Cannon is a Republican, and Mr. Cannon is a member, he is assured of re-election to the speakership.

IN EIGHT DISTRICT FIGHT

R. LINDSAY GORDON.

CARLIN AND GORDON BOTH CLAIM EIGHTH

both city and county are regarded as being as near accurate as can be given until the votes are cast and counted. The indications are that if the weather is good the vote will be fully up to the number given above. Representatives of both sides will, of course, see that every vote that can possibly be gotten out on that day is polled.

GORDON'S HOME PEOPLE EXPECT HIM TO WIN

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LOUISA, VA., June 6.—The general impression here is that Gordon will carry the county by a margin that he will not lose more than three of its 200 votes here. At the fifteen other precincts in the county he is, on conservative estimate, not expected to lose more than fifty votes, and is expected to carry the county of Louisa by from 900 to 1,000 majority.

His supporters here are now more confident of his nomination than they have been at any time during the campaign. It is expected here that Gordon will also carry the counties of Prince William, Loudoun, Fauquier, Alexandria as well as Louisa, and that the whole Eighth District will give him a majority of from 400 to 500.

Gordonville for Gordon.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

GORDONSVILLE, VA., June 6.—As the time for the primary election for Congress in the Eighth District draws nearer the fight grows warmer. Gordon is recognized as Gordon's stronghold, as is also Orange county. The vote to be polled here next Tuesday will be lighter than for some years of reason of some voters neglecting to pay poll tax. Not over 100 votes will be cast, of which Gordon will receive about 85 per cent.

Orange Probably for Gordon.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ORANGE, VA., June 6.—Intense interest being taken here in the congressional fight being waged between Representative Carlin and Mr. Gordon. Orange being Mr. Gordon's native county, he naturally has many warm and substantial supporters. Mr. Carlin also has many influential friends and followers here. The friends of each candidate are making a lively canvass and the result will be a large vote for Orange county. From present indications the vote will be: Gordon, 500; Carlin, 500.

Culpeper for Carlin.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CULPEPER, VA., June 6.—The primary of next Tuesday in this district for Congress between Messrs. Carlin and Gordon is exciting a great deal of interest. There seems to be but little doubt that this county will give a majority for Mr. Carlin, and the general consensus of opinion in this part of the district is that he will retain his seat here in the Congress. There have been no joint discussions between the two gentlemen. Mr. Carlin having been up to a day or two ago all the time at his desk in Congress.

Fauquier Is Doubtful.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WARRENTON, VA., June 6.—Inter-

C. C. CARLIN.

est in the Carlin-Gordon fight has reached a point where the lines between the two candidates are drawn to a high tension. Warrenton will be a doubtful give Gordon a safe majority. While this is not conceded by Carlin's forces, yet the most conservative and unbiased opinion of all this way of thinking, Carlin may carry the county by a small majority. The young Congressmen have decidedly the advantage in having the party machinery behind him, and they are all recognized politicians of the highest order, and can deliver the vote that usually wins.

This Precinct was Carried by Nicol

in the triangular fight last year, and the majority of the Nicol vote Tuesday will be cast for Gordon. The vote for Carlin in 1907 was only 70 out of a total of 335, and it will be impossible for him to increase this sufficiently to win at this place. This condition prevails largely throughout the county, and if Gordon carries the county it will occasion no surprise.

Looks Like Carlin.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

MORRISVILLE, VA., June 6.—The contest for the Democratic nomination for Congress from this the Eighth District, now nearing the close, has been one of the bitterest factional and mud-slinging contests the party has ever known in this section. It is a result of the angry passions stirred up on both sides, the Democratic party does not enter otherwise, the Republican party will be furnished with an immense fund of campaign literature. Unless some new and startling feature is suddenly emptied into the contest the indications are that Carlin will hold the full vote he received in the primary of last year, gain some votes from Gordon's, receive a thin majority of the Nicol vote and be nominated by an increased majority over last year.

WILL ORGANIZE CAMP OF SONS OF VETERANS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

KENNESBURY, VA., June 6.—Dr. E. D. Mann and Messrs. Isham T. Wilkinson and John E. Walker are in receipt of a letter from Hon. John W. Apperson, commander-in-chief of the Sons of the Confederate Veterans, enclosing muster rolls, and all the necessary information for the organization of a Lunenburg camp. All sons or grandsons of Confederate veterans are invited to communicate with one of the above mentioned gentlemen, and are cordially invited to join in the organization of this camp. The formation of this camp will greatly aid in the cementing of friendships between those who are descended from the men who belong to the Lost Cause, and the keeping alive of the great principles for which the fathers fought. Just as soon as sufficient members have been secured a camp will be organized.

MISS ELIZABETH HENDERSON TO WED LIEUTENANT COTTON

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SALISBURY, N. C., June 6.—An announcement was made to-day of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Browning Henderson, daughter of ex-Congressman and Mrs. John S. Henderson, of Salisbury, to Lieutenant Lyman A. Cotton, of the United States Navy, now stationed at Newport. R. L. Miss Henderson is immensely popular and possessed of a fine, graceful, and refined womanhood. She is well-known throughout the State. Lieutenant Cotton is a native Carolinian, a member of a distinguished family and has won honors in the navy.

NEEDS MORE SIGNATURES TO GET DISTILLERY LICENSE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SUFFOLK, VA., June 6.—In Nansemond Circuit Court to-day the application of J. T. Stallings to distill fruit juices at Chuckatuck was for the second time continued. The applicant needed 160 signers to his petition, and had 173, but twenty-eight had asked to have their names withdrawn. This is the only contested liquor case of the year in this county.
